

Piedmont Transplant Institute

1st Annual Hepatology CME Symposium

Piedmont Transplant Institute's Hepatology Symposium will provide knowledge and strategies to physicians and advanced practice providers for the care of patients with liver disease. This symposium will provide evidence-based practice and strategies to incorporate new skills and diagnostic approaches to patients, while integrating opportunities for Q&A with leading transplant physicians. With a focus on quality, patient safety and better patient outcomes, we are excited to partner with physicians and advanced practitioners across the southeast in caring for complex hepatology patients.

Symposium Topics:

- Clinical Evaluation of Elevated Liver Enzymes
- Clinical Evaluation of Liver Lesions on Imaging Scans
- Management of Metabolic Associated Liver Disease and Alcohol Related Liver Disease
 - Management of End Stage Liver Disease & Referring for Liver Transplant
 - Transplant Considerations: Inclusion Criteria
